The Senior member, without changing his residence from Crawfordville, will furnish his counsel and aid in all matters, and on all questions when it may be desired; and will give his special attention and attendance to all litigated cases and criminal trials in all the higher Courts, both State and Federal. feb5 d1m

GEORGE T. FRY,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Begs leave to inform the good people of Atlanta, and also those of Fulton, DeKalb, and adjoining counties, that he has located his office in Ball's Building, East side of Whitehall street, in the said city of Atlanta, where he may be found and consulted upon business, every day (Sundays excepted) from 7 o'clock, A. M., to 6 o'clock, P. M. He will give diligent, careful, and prompt attention to all business confided to his care.

He will make a specialty of the following grades of business, to-wit: The collection of debts, settlement of all money demands, and of all demands growing out of contracts between man and man, all matters appertaining to, or growing out of, the Homestead Law.

Parties desiring to avail themselves of the benefits intended to be conferred by the Homestead Law, are respectfully invited to come to my office for any information they may desire concerning the said law. Also, will attend specially to all matters in Bankruptcy; and he begs leave to say to the unfortunate debtor, that the time wherein you will be allowed the full benefit of the Bankrupt Law, will expire on the first day of January, 1869; after that time you must pay fifty per centum of your indebtedness, or else you cannot have the benefit of the law, except by the consent of a majority, in number and value, of your creditors, which consent you will not be likely to obtain.—If you are in debt $300, or upwards, and feel that you cannot pay out, without subjecting yourself and family to great hardships and inconvenience, come to my office, and I will assist you to be relieved from all your distresses and embarrassments, by filing a petition for you for that purpose.

Be sure to make application before the 31st day of December, or else you will be too late! too late!

The citizens are specially invited to come to my office to consult me on any business they may desire to have attended to. They will always find me in my office, in a good humor, always glad to see you, and ready to give you a hearty, old-fashioned welcome, and will always be ready to attend to your business for you.

Office over Alexander's Hardware and Bradfield's Drug Store, stairway running up between the two, on the same floor of the Southern and St. Louis Life Insurance offices.

Respectfully, GEO. T. FRY.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, FEBRUARY 9.

Another Sickles.

Dr. George B. Peters, who killed Gen. Van Dorn, has recently been united in the holy bonds of matrimony with his former wife, from whom he was divorced in consequence of her intimacy, as claimed, with Gen. Van Dorn. Miss Peters, his daughter, has, in consequence, renounced her design of becoming a nun.

Gold in Georgia.

The Chattanooga Republican learns that the gold mines near Allatoona, Ga., are being worked with redoubled vigor, and with a more profitable yield than formerly. The mines are beginning to attract Northern labor and capital, the pre-requisite to their successful development.

A Chance for Capitalists.

The wreck of private fortunes wrought by the war, says the Chicago Republican, and the radical changes in the system of labor caused by emancipation, have brought immense tracts of land into market for sale at figures ridiculously low compared with their taxable value anterior to the rebellion. Farms in a high state of cultivation, in every one of the insurgent States, that would have been a legal-tender of $20 per acre, can now be purchased for $5, cash down. But this extraordinary cheapness cannot be maintained for any considerable period. The depression of price which afflicts the soil of that section must soon give way to countervailing influences. An acre that was once richly worth twenty dollars, for the purposes of agriculture, cannot be kept, for many years, at a rate so far below its actual value. Foreign immigration, particularly that arising from the German States, has already got on the scent of this opportunity. This alone will account for the recent slight chich, which no doubt will augment as time rolls on, in the current of the influx of foreigners. Climate as well as cheapness invites them.

It must not be forgotten that these chances of investment appertain quite as much to lands that lie in the vicinity of railroads, towns and cities, as to those which are situated in the rural districts. Thousands of proprietors who own thousands of acres in a single body, are so encumbered by debts, or so surrounded with impediments that they would gladly forego future advantages, which a few years hence must realize, to extricate themselves from present entanglements. With this view, they are ready to sacrifice portions of their estates at almost pawn-keepers' rates. Bye-and-bye they will recover from this unnatural depression. Surrounding circumstances will justify this change. Necessarily there must be an abatement of these inducements. The time must come when there will be a due appreciation of surroundings. The panic which now exists will be inoperative. At present, there is a panic in the value of real estate. Lands may be purchased for one-twentieth of their original worth.

Those who have money to invest would do well to make a practicable application of these advantages. They present a rare opportunity for capital.

Extract from Remarks of Gen. W. S. Walker, before the State Agricultural Convention, in favor of the Bill for the Encouragement of Immigration.

MR. PRESIDENT: This Convention is composed of the representative men of the State of Georgia, upon the subject of Agriculture. It is fair to assume that they represent the experience of the farmers of the State upon the labor question which is now under discussion, and if any fact has been elicited, it is that in the opinion of nine men out of ten on this floor, the labor upon which the very existence of the State depends is unreliable. No more weighty or momentous question could be submitted for the consideration of men of all classes, than the remedy for an evil so vital.

In my opinion, the most officacious remedy will be found in immigration.

To be weak is to be dependent with individuals and with nations. Immigration will give us strength both of numbers and wealth. With strength will come political influence and recognition and the respect of Federal and State Governments.

In the census of 1861 it appears, that the total number of immigrants to the United States from the year 1819 to 1860, was 4,000,000. Of this the number absorbed by the Northern and Western States was 86 per cent. and by the Southern but 13 per cent., or the ratio of 6 and a half to one. In round numbers while the South received about 500,000, the North had an accession of 3,500,000. Each immigrant brought on an average per head $100 in gold. This made the increase of wealth from this source about fifty millions for the South, and three hundred and fifty millions to the North.

At the commencement of the revolution, the most powerful State of the Confederacy was Virginia, and the population of the two sections was about equal. In the year 1870 it is estimated that the total population of the U. S. will be 42,000,000, of which we will have but 12,000,000, and the North 30,000,000. With such a great and continually increasing disproportion of population, must it not have been merely a question of time as to how long the more powerful section would force upon the weaker political dogmas which had assumed the vehemence of religious as well as political belief.

In the trying circumstances in which we are placed, we should snatch every ray of consolation, and apply every source of philosophy we can glean from our disasters. A genuine ground of congratulation may be found in the fact, that this disproportion of acquisition of foreign labor must hereafter cease. I think it may be safely predicted that, within two or three years, a large amount will flow to the South, if we make the proper exertion to secure it.

There is room for a vast increase. The State of Massachusetts contains about 160 inhabitants to the square mile, with a comparatively unproductive soil, and under an inclement sky.

The State of Georgia is capable of supporting a larger population per square mile. If she were as thickly settled as Massachusetts, she would have a population of over 9,000,000. If she were as densely populated as Belgium, she would contain 25,000,000 inhabitants.

But we are met with an objection by a small, though highly respectable class, who do not want an adulteration of our blood with a foreign or Northern element. This is the doctrine of stagnation and political death. If it were possible to carry it out it would entail eternal weakness and dependence. Were it practicable to build a Chinese wall of exclusion along the frontier and the seaboard of the Southern States, in from twenty-one to twenty-five years the population of the North and West would number about 60,000,000, while the white population of the South, exclusive of Kentucky, Missouri and Maryland, would be about 10,000,000.

The fears of this highly respectable reactionary class are really unfounded. Transplant Northern men to the soil of the South, and will they not have as keen a sense of their interest in latitude 35 as in latitude 40? Does not our interest become identical in all matters of agitation and material progress?

A striking illustration of the influence of Southern associations upon Northern men is found in the fact that two of our representative men, whose names are honored in every Southern household, General John A. Quitman and Sargent S. Prentiss were born and bred to manhood in the North, before they emigrated South, the one from Maine and the other from New York.

It is natural and right to look with feelings of filial affection upon the past age of the South. The age of a high-spirited, refined, hospitable, religious and happy people. But the peculiar elements of civilization under whose pressure it was produced and fostered, has disappeared, never to return. The ties which bound the slave to his master are disrupted. The rich products of the soil which formerly enabled us to be lavish and generous in our expenditures, now require careful husbandry to secure support. Economy has become a synonyme for honesty. Let us in our heart of hearts cherish the memory of our ancestry and vindicate their fame; but let us also imitate their manhood and avail ourselves of every help which will enable us to take our place among the foremost in the race of empire.

GEORGIA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, Feb. 9, 1869.

Senate called to order by the President
Prayer by Mr. Hinton.

Journal of proceedings of yesterday read and approved.

Mr. ADKINS changed his vote from yea to nay, on the adoption of Price's resolution.

RECONSIDERATION.

Mr MERRELL moved to reconsider the action of the Senate yesterday, referring the eligibility of colored men to hold office, to the Supreme Court.

The President vacated his seat, calling Mr. Winn to the Chair.

Mr. WOOTEN, the Henry Clay of the General Assembly, made an earnest, eloquent, and argumentative speech in favor of reconsideration.

Mr. BURNS followed in a stirring, patriotic, and pungent effort in favor of reconstruction.

Mr. CANDLER, the "Chatham" of the Senate, opposed the motion to reconsider, in a few remarks, and moved to lay the motion to reconsider on the table. The vote stood yeas, 13; nays, 17. So the motion to table did not prevail.

Mr. CANDLER made a strong, effective and powerful effort in opposition to reconsideration, followed by Mr. Hinton, in favor, in a pointed speech.

The President resumed his seat.

Mr. BROCK, favored reconsideration, but was opposed to the resolutions.

Mr. WELLBORN, opposed reconsidation in a facetious speech, sparkling with humor and good sense, having possession of the floor at the hour of adjournment.

(During the debate we observed Ex-Gov. Brown and Col. J. T. Willingham, in the lobby, and Hon. Peterson Thweatt, and Judge Pope on the floor of the Senate.)

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

A message was received from the Governor, announcing that he had signed and approved the resolution appointing a joint committee on memorial of Jane L. Mitchell.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.

A messenger was received from the House, announcing that that body had passed several Senate and House bills.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The Judiciary Committee, through Mr. Merrell, Chairman, reported on a large number of bills.

The Enrollment Committee reported several bills duly enrolled.

Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, February, 9, 1869.

House met pursuant to adjournment.
Prayer by Rev. Mr. Crumley.
Journal read and approved.

Mr. CARPENTER, of Hancock, moved to reconsider the bill passed yesterday changing the lines between the counties of Hancock and Taliaferro. Motion prevailed.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The bill to enforce the payment of interest, agreed upon, was taken up and discussed.

Mr. HUDSON moved to indefinitely postpone this bill. Motion prevailed.

Mr. TUMLIN moved to suspend the rules to take up the bill reducing the tax on circuses from $100 to $25. Rules suspended and the bill taken up and read.

Mr. CRAWFORD moved to indefinitely postpone this bill. Lost.

The previous question was called on the passage of the bill, and the yeas and nays required, which resulted—yeas 56, nays 68.

Mr. KELLY—A bill to amend the police laws of the city of Savannah.

Rules suspended and the bill read first time.

On motion of Mr. HALL, of Monroe, the rules were suspended, and the general appriation bill read second time, and referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. KELLY moved to suspend the rules to take up Senate bills for third reading.—Motion prevailed.

A bill to exempt a certain number of the members of fire companies of the city of Savannah from jury duty. Amended by adding Rainbow Fire Company of Rome. The bill, as amended, passed.

A bill to regulate summons of witnesses in Chatham Superior Court. Passed.

A bill to incorporate the Atlanta Agricultural Implement Manufactory Company. Amended by committee and passed.

The special order of the day being the Land and Immigration bill. It was taken up, and being an appropriation bill, the House resolved itself into a committe of the whole, to consider it.

Considerable discussion ensued on motion to read and act on the bill by sections. Vote was taken on motion, and House decided to read bill and act upon amendments made thereto. Bill read.

Mr. SAUSSEY moved to amend by locating the office of Chief Commissioner at any place to be designated by the commissioners, other than the Capitol, as in the original bill.

Mr. ANDERSON objected to the amendment. He said that the friends of this bill had prepared it carefully, and he hoped it would pass without amendments.

Mr. O'NEAL moved to amend the amendment by striking out the word "Capitol" in the bill and adding "the city of Savannah" for the location of the Chief Commissioner.

Mr. WARREN, of Quitman, said as the discussion had gone into the merits of this bill, he would state his objections to the bill. He was opposed to the bill from beginning to end, and thought it was dangerous to go to this expense in our present embarrassed condition. He would not give one negro laborer for forty such as this bill would get. It was made for the benefit of men who wanted easy places, and if it passed, it would pass over his vote.

Mr. TWEEDY moved to strike out to be elected by the General Assembly and give power to Governor to appoint.

Mr. HAPPER, of Terrell, said he was opposed to the bill. He would not say that he would oppose it same future day. We can offer no inducements to immigrants at the present time. We do not know how long it will be before some General will be upon us with his bureau, and the expense to support this bill is unnecessary at the present time, and I think this bill should be indefinitely postposed. This Legislature voted down an appropriation to bury our dead, a few days since, and here, some who voted it down, want to appropriate ten thousand dollars to assist the very men, or some of the men who assisted to kill our people, to come here and live. He was opposed to it. When we are prepared to offer inducements to immigration it will come. Let us, then, legislate our estate into a condition that we can rid ourselves of our present burdens and then we will be prepared to go into new enterprises.

Mr. PHILLIPS moved that the Committee rise and report progress and ask leave to sit again.

Motion prevailed and the bill made the special order of to-morrow, 11 o'clock.

House adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

The Supply of Meat—A Timely Warning to the South.

A St. Louis pork-packer issues the following circular, which concerns the people of the South:

Evidence daily accumulates, going to show that the present year the South will demand and consume double the quantity of provisions that she did last year. In view of this fact, what is the condition of the trade in the hog product of the West at this time? The South is consuming meat of the new crop, while the old stock was consumed long before the new cure could be got forward. This is unusual for the season, and is of great importance. In the face of this fact, we have the evidence that there is at least an even chance for a small crop of hogs to give us the meat for the coming wants. Could we come up to last year's crop, we should then be deficient, for that only met the necessities, which we cramped by the lack of means to pay.

Now, with increased facilities for payment, and a consumption so far of the new crop astonishing and unusual, and yet legitimate, as we have before remarked, the "hog product" is to be short this year in any event that can now occur.—Some writers are descanting upon the fact that the high prices are checking the exportations. To our mind this is of little concern, for, from present appearances, the West will have no provisions to send out of the country. The home consumption will be as much as we can meet, and we may not be able to even do that, if the hogs do not come forward in a larger supply than they have thus far, and that a majority predict they will.—Relative to high prices, we state, without fear of contradiction, that he who buys hogs at 9¼ cents gross, and sells the product at the present rates, loses money on every hog so slaughtered. One thing is palpable, either hogs must come down in price, or the product must go higher than any price we have yet seen. It is estimated that at the present time the stock of hogs is only about half and that of pork only about one quarter of the stock of last year at Chicago, and other points also short.

Senator-elect Pratt, of Indiana, should not be confounded with Presidential Pratt, of Boston, the Great American Traveler. The Indiana Pratt is greater even than the great; he is longer than Long John Wentworth, of Illinois, he is stronger than Lieutenant Governor Dunn, of Louisiana; he is six feet four inches high, weighs upwards of three hundred pounds, and his voice is the voice of many waters, wherein he is ahead of Yates and Chandler, whose voices are the voices of many whiskies and waters. It is thus the West proposes to provide amusement with instruction, by sending a Senator who will infallibly draw many idle contrabands to the Senate, to see the "biggest man in the country," as Daniel saw the show of lions, "all for nothing."—*N. "Importance of the Present Hour."

The article which we publish under this head is from the pen of a statesman whose hair is gray with the wisdom and experience of years. The members of the Legislature will find in it an endorsement of their course in proposing to submit the eligibility question to the Supreme Court.

The Memorial of Jane L. Mitchell, Administratrix, &c.

Said memorial, addressed "To the General Assembly of the State of Georgia," asks the General Assembly to retrocede "to the heirs of Mr. Mitchell" property worth not less than $250,000. Let us look into the merits of this memorial. What right has the Mitchell estate to the Railroad Park? The "five acres of land" of which said Park is part, was deeded, by Mr. Mitchell, after having been selected by Wilson Lumpkin and F. M. Garnett, to the State of Georgia, "as the most suitable place for the Eastern terminus of said Western and Atlantic Railroad." Said "five acres of land" was to be taken "from any part of his said tract of land." Mr. Mitchell gave the right of way through land lot seventy-seven "for the use and purposes of said road, and five acres for the Eastern terminus. Is not the Eastern terminus on said five acres? The city of Atlanta has simply been permitted to fence in part of the said five acres and spend several thousand dollars in beautifying and ornamenting the same. Must the State of Georgia cover said five acres all over with houses and absolutely prevent its being "a sporting ground for dogs" to preserve its title? Said memorial declares this deed, so far as the five acres were concerned, a deed on condition." The condition still remains complied with. It is the "Eastern terminus." Who knows but that "the necessary buildings which may hereafter be required for public purposes, at the terminus of said road" may cover said ground all over? Soon, very soon, Atlanta, will have a 100,000 people. Ten years will accomplish it. What, then, may be the wants of the Western and Atlantic Railroad no legislator can now divine—ten years and said five acres will be worth a million.—Will the Legislature surrender it? The Legislature is just as much bound to give it to us as to the Mitchells. Suppose the road had terminated at Decatur, as some wanted, what would the Mitchell lands have been worth? A trifle, merely. Has not the State done more for the Mitchell estate, much more, than the Mitchells did for the State? Who made lot (77) seventy-seven worth thousands to Mitchell in increasing its value? Who enabled said lot to be cut up into small city lots, when one-fourth of an acre was made worth more than the whole lot would a few months before have brought? Have not the Mitchells already reaped their share off the growth of Atlanta? What if all has been lost! The "adverse fortune" of a few years past has made many as worthy a family as poor as they. Where is your "natural justice and equity?"

When donated, the property named was probably not worth 500 dollars. Who has made it worth a quarter of a million or more? The terminus could just as well have been on the adjoining lot, and the Mitchell lot would not have brought the estate one-fourth what it did. "The public spirit" of the donor was rewarded amply by the acceptance of the donation—a hundred fold and more. No man can now tell of what value that five acres may yet be, as the terminus of the Western and Atlantic Railroad.

It is not true "that this property must remain idle and vacant." There are many uses to which it may be applied. It is now in use a as terminus legitimately under the deed. There is no "justice" in this memorial, and if "generosity" is invoked and is thought necessary in this case, let the General Assembly make an appropriation of what generosity demands and not alienate a property of prospective incalculable value.

Mrs. Mitchell has already employed ble counsel and commenced suit in the Courts for a quarter of a million more on the other side of the Railroad. If "natural justice and equity" be on her side, she and hers will soon be rolling in affluance. The General Assembly of Georgia will have assumed an important and doubtful duty, when it undertakes to remove from the Judiciary the settlement of cases which by law properly belong to that tribunal. Let the case proceed in court. The General Assembly has other and better business than that of assuming Judicial functions. Besides, what right has the Legislative department to prejudice the suit now pending for another quarter of a million of dollars worth of land adjoining, by recognizing the Mitchell title, and thereby throwing its influence against the transactions of the city of Atlanta with the Macon and Western Railroad. If the General Assembly takes this case out of the Courts, let them abolish the Judiciary, and settle all the contests in the State.—There are many parties at interest in this matter. Their proper forum is the Court House, and not the State House.

Col. V. K. Stevenson has recently disposed of his tract of land lying in Crow Creek Valley, near Chattanooga, which he purchased a few years since for five thousand dollars, for the round sum of one hundred and ten thousand dollars in cash.

The Bill to Create County Commissioners of Roads and Revenue.

A bill of the above import passed the House some days ago, by a large majority, and is now before the Senate. We trust the latter body will promptly act upon a measure of so much importance to the people of the State. It is a duty incumbent upon them by the provisions of the new Constitution. That instrument, Sec. XIV, abolishes the courts heretofore existing in this State styled Inferior Courts, and transfers their unfinished business, and the duties of the Justices thereof, to such tribunals as the General Assembly may designate. Sec. XV. says: "The General Assembly shall have power to provide for the creation of County Commissioners in such counties as may require them, and to define their powers." In accordance with these provisions of the Constitution, Mr. Hudson, of Harris, introduced a bill providing for County Commissioners, for his county and Brooks, which was amended until 82 counties were added, and finally the provisions of the bill were made general. There could be no clearer proposition than the necessity for the passage of this bill. It is demanded by the Constitution as well as the exigencies of the case. The abolition of the Inferior Courts, without these commissioners, imposes on the Ordinary all the duties of the county. He would be an absolute autocrat, with no limit to the exercise of his power. He can levy taxes upon his county without restraint, and disburse the public funds without any accountability to any tribunal whatever.

He contracts for the working of all the roads and the building of all bridges in the county, paying such sums of money for the same as in his judgment may be proper and right. He contracts for the building of houses for the poor of the county, and regulates the salaries of those who superintend the same. He regulates the prices for feeding the prisoners in the county jail and the salaries of those who guard them. If the county needs a new Jail or Court House he contracts for the building of them at such price as he may think proper. He also levies the tax to defray all these and hundreds of other neccessary County expenses.

We confess, this is more responsibility than we are willing to impose upon these officers. It is placing too much power in the hands of one man, we care not how unsullied his character may be. We submit to the Legislature whether it is not requiring too much of one individual in a county. Pass this bill. It will do no harm to have these Commissioners supervise his acts as the guardian of the people.

Universal Suffrage Amendment.

The Radical party is so progressive in its theories of government, that six months even is a long period for it to adhere to any one policy. No longer ago than last May, in solemn conclave at Chicago, it resolved that the extension of suffrage to all loyal men at the South should be guaranteed by Congress, but that in the loyal states it was a question with which Congress had nothing to do, and that it properly belonged to the people of those States. On this declaration of principles it succeeded in the November election. Now that its power is extended for a period, it does not hestitate to repudiate the false professions with which it deceived the people. In the very teeth of the Chicago platform, the Radical House at Washington, a few days since, by a large majority, passed the constitutional amendment guaranteeing the right of universal suffrage. The same bill is before the Senate, and will, in our judgment, pass that body and become a law. Ohio, Michigan and other Northern States were too slow in their appreciation of negro suffrage. Kentucky and Maryland are rather obtuse in their recognition of the rights of all men. Hence the Chicago cheat must be abandoned, and a nearer cut taken to the objective point. The 15th amendment is to be applied as a soothing plaster to the defects in the Chicago platform, and Congress with its universal suffrage hobby, made to override the rights of the States in regulating this question for themselves.

The South has little interest in the adoption or rejection of the amendment. If negro suffrage is good enough for her, she concludes it will not be amiss to try it on the North.

If Congress has the right to establish it by the bayonet in one section, who cares if it does by legislation in another? Either way, we are little concerned in the result. They may vote it upon the North a dozen times, and fail to inflict upon that people so foul a wrong as they have imposed upon the Southern States.

This universal suffrage amendment is but another bold and reckless stride, in the march of Radical revolution between the alternatives, of which we do not care the toss of a copper. So on with the car of Juggernaut! Its wheels have already passed over us. If the North would not share a similar fate, let her stand from under.

Importance of the Present Hour.

Editor Constitution: The political philosopher will find little trouble in discovering, withouthe aid of glasses, the present attitude of Georgia.

She has passed through the various stages of reconstruction devised by Congress, and modified by her own statesmanship, and having reached the last station, finds herself whirled off the track like a cork, and unable to proceed an inch further.

Reconstruction! Oh! what a word it has grown to be, how big with the fate of ten States, and more than ten millions of people. Yet, "reconstruction" is the happy land for which per force we have have embarked, and whether willing or unwilling the political forces, which we have no power to resist, are bearing right ahead to it.

Reconstructioc means the will of Congress, nothing more, nothing less, and all we can do, is to say like one of old, "What wilt thou have me to do?" an until thisd is done, Georgia with her glorious past is nothing, her present nothing, and her future fearful to contemplate. I hear men say that Congress cannot do so and so, because such acts would be in violation of the Constitution. Kind reader, the Constitution perished with the Lost Cause. Congress is not working under it now; but under a higher law, yclept the will of the loyal people, they assert the right to change, alter, or abolish all of the local State governments, lately in rebellion, and of founding them again upon the novel and untried theory of an equality of races. You have resisted, as you ought to have done, this monstrous heresy. You have met fanaticism with reason, policy with statesmanship. History will sift the men and motives of this generation, and vindicate those who have fought with more than "beasts at Ephesis," and although vanquished you will stand high upon the list of those who have dared all for human liberty that patriotism demanded. But you can do nomore; reconstruction according to the will of Congress, uncertain as it has been and may continue to be, is far better than military rule and drum-head court martials.

It is useless to look forward to a restoration of the Constitution. We may as well expect to see Democracy and Whiggery again opposing each other, or Clay and Webster, Calhoun and Hayne, reappear in the Senate. All this is as likely to happen as that the Constitution, with the rights of the States guaranteed, will ever again be the supreme law of the land. What then? The Constitution, except for minor purposes, has been abolished. The will of Congress representing the will of the Nation (!) has taken its place, and as the supreme authority, it requires certain acts of the people and State government, and if you refuse to accord their demands, do you think Congress will recide? Most certainly not. What then? Georgia will remain a territory, legislated for by Congress—the laws administered by a pro-consul, enforced by the military, with negro patrols in every county, punishing by drum-head court martial, upon ex parte evidence, all offenses, whether real or otherwise.

Thus you will suffer all the evils and enjoy none of the benefits of the anomalous form of government arranged for us.

It is a cause for rejoicing that the Georgia Legislature has passed the bill referring the question of negro eligibility to the Courts. If the negro members are restored to their seats in the Legislature, be it so, but if not, thank God and take courage.

Many of our people are deluding themselves with the belief that General Grant is perfectly Omnipotent, and that after his inauguration he will interpose his great power to save the States from any further reconstruction acts. This is a mistake.—General Grant will find himself in nearly the same condition of Mr. Johnson, the retiring President, unless his principles are in perfect accord with Congress; and that man interprets events to little purpose who does not see, that the Legislative department has so completely dwarfed the other co-ordinate department of the Government, thatt they appear as mere specks in the political kaleidescope. In short, you can judge of what Congress will do by what Congress hos done—look for nothing less.

The loyal element does not care a fig what becomes of the Southern people, and Congress reflecting their temper, have no bowels of compassion for rebels. We must do or die, and true statesmanship implies a policy that will be accepted by the powers that rule. Would you see Georgia in the helpless, deplorable condition of Arkansas and Tennessee? God forbid. Then work while it is called to-day.

And, finally, let us keep one eye on the polar star, (restoration without military rule) compromising nothing we can hold, and asking only what we can get, and leave the radicals to settle their own quarrels. "Let us have peace."

CONFEDERATE.

DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT of GEORGIA,

Delivered at Atlanta, February 2, 1869.

FURNISHED BY N. J. HAMMOND, SUPREME COURT REPORTER, EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION.

Joseph R. High, Plaintiff in error, vs. Jas. McHugh, Defendant in error. From Morgan.

BROWN, C. J.—Under the scaling ordinance of 1865, the parties to contracts made between 1st June, 1861, and 1st June, 1865, have the right to give in evidence to the jury, the consideration of the contract and the value thereof at any time; and the intention of the parties as to the particular currency in which payment was to be made, and the value of such currency at any time, and the verdict and judgment rendered shall be on principles of equity.

The evidence in this case having been fairly submitted to the jury, in accordance, with the ordinance and there being sufficient evidence to support the verdict, and the presiding Judge being satisfied with it, this Court will not set it aside.

Judgment affirmed.

J. C. Barnett, A. Reese, for plaintiff in error.

J. A. Billups, for defendant in error.

James C. McBurney, Plaintiff in error, vs. Patrick McIntyre, Defendant in error. From Bibb.

BROWN, C. J—1. A tenant has no right to sub-let the premises without the consent of the landlord, and when done with his consent, the sub-tenant is the tenant of the landlord, and he and not the tenant, has a right to proceed against the sub-tenant in case he holds over.

2. When A, the tenant, sub-let to B., who was also required to pay rent to the landlord for the part sub-let, and at the end of the year for which they held the premises, A and B were rivals in securing a lease from the landlord for the ensuing year, and both claimed to have rented the premises for the next year, and B remained in possession, the relation of landlord and tenant did not exist between them.

3. When A applied to the landlord to lease the premises for three years, which was refused, but it was agreed that he might rent for one year, and that the written lease should be executed at another time, and A laid down his notes for one year's rent on the landlord's table; which A afterwards claimed as the evidence of the contract, the notes not having been returned; Held, that the language used in the notes must be taken most srongly against A, and that the expression in the notes that they are for the rent of the store occupied by A, will not embrace a lot adjoining the store-house, fenced off to itself, which usually went with the store before it was so fenced.

Judgment reversed.

O. A. Lochrane, for plaintiff in error.

Whittle & Gustin, A. W. Hammond & Son, for defendant in error.

☞ A highly intelligent lady, a resident of Syracuse, N. Y., says that she was afflicted nearly a year, periodically, with derangement of the circulation, the blood rushing to the lungs with such a force as to threaten congestion and death. This was attended with the most intense pain in all parts of the body. Failing to obtain relief from any of the physicians whom she employed from time to time, she was induced to try the PLANTATION BITTERS, and to her surprise and joy they have relieved her, and she is now in good health and flesh.

BY TELEGRAPH.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

FROM WASHINGTON.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, February 9.—HOUSE.—Kerr spoke in opposition to the postal railroad to New York. He said the system would soon extend to telegraphs, insurance and canals, creating the necessity for new bureaus and departments, and with them would come a fearful multiplication of officers and clerks, and increasing swarms of corrupt, infamous men, land thieves, subsidy beggars, swindlers, villainous contractors, ope ators, and speculators. Such characters would command, if they did not fill, seats in the House of Representatives. This bill was only a pioneer with which to break down the constitutional barriers, and inaugurate a new policy.

The amendment forbidding the road to connect with other roads now built passed. The amendment extending the schedule time from six to seven hours passed by 104 to 61. The bill was then ordered engrossed.

Several Senate amendments to the consular appropriation bills were rejected.

The Committee of Banking and Currency have the floor Saturday to report business on hand.

Paine gave notice that he would to-morrow call up the bill for the relief of political disabilities reported by him from the Reconstruction Committee.

The House then went into Committe on the army appropriation, and took recess.

SENATE—All day was devoted to the suffrage amendment. It is still in session.

Capt. W. A. Coulter, is relieved from the Freedmen's Bureauin Virginia, and ordered to join his regiment at Montgomery, Ala.

There was a full Cabinet to-day.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Rollins is absent.

During the contest over the suffrage amendment to the Constitution, Mr. Vickers offered an amendment, looking to the exercise of the elective franchise of those who are now excluded by reason of participation in the rebellion, which was rejected by ayes 21, nays 32; those voting in the affirmative being Messrs. Bayard, Buckalew, Davis, Dixon, Doolittle, Ferry, Fowler, Grimes, Harlan, Hendricks, McCreary, Norton, Patterson of Tennessee, Ramsey, Rice, Robertson, Sawyer, Trumbull, Van Winkle, Vickers and Wilson.

The Constitutional Amendment, as it finally passed the Senate, reads: No discrimination shall be made in the United States among the citizens of the United States, in the exercise of the Elective Franchise, or in the right to hold office, in any State, on account of race, color, nativity, property, education, or creed. Vote, 40 to 16. It goes to the House for concurrence.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.—Grant arrived this morning, too fatigued, from New York labors, to attend the wedding as promised.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—James T. Brady died of appoplexy, aged 54. All the courts adjourned out of respect.

NEW ORLEANS, February 9.—Pinchback's bill for the enforcement of the 13th article of the Constitution (equality bill) passed the Senate yesterday.

A joint resolution was also passed donating $10,000 to the Lincoln Monument Association.

Manager Floyd, of the Varieties Theater, yesterday, enjoined Ben DeBar, of the St. Charles Theater, from producing the railroad scene in After Dark, on the ground of infringement of copyright of Under the Gas Light, but upon producing decisions of the New York courts in similar suits and giving bond of $5,000 DeBar is allowed to produce the scene.

Both Houses of the Legislature adjourned yesterday till Wednesday on account of Mardigras.

Peeler Cotton.

This remarkable variety of cotton was to-day shown us by Mr. H. R. Ware, who has the seed for sale in our city by Messrs. Pratt, Edwards & Co. After carefully examining the length, strength and great beauty of its staple, we were not astonished that its appearance in our great cotton marts should have created so much sensation amongst commercial men, and brought in market the price above the common variety of cotton which it so readily commands. For, by the New Orleans Price Current, now before us, not only is it quoted at from 40 to 50 per cent. above other varieties of cotton in price, but the same authority speaks of it as an "exceedingly prolific cotton," which seems substantiated not only by the New Orleans Bulletin, St. Louis Journal of Commerce and Vicksburg Times, but Mr. Ware holds accounts of sales of this cotton made in New York at 42c., and at Savannah, by Rust, Johnson & Locket, at 45c. per pound, made on the 5th day of this month. These parties are the growers of the seed they offer for sale, and have the most satisfactory evidence of their reliability, so there can be no question of the genuineness of the seed.

The following parties are the agents for the sale of the seed, as they are, also, for the Pettit Gulf Cotton Seed, direct from the Mississippi bottoms:

Pratt, Edwards & Co., Atlanta, Ga.; Johnson, Campbell & Co., Macon; E. P. Clayton & Co., Augusta; Rust & Johnson, Albany; Kennedy and Lotspeich, Selma; Gilmer & Browder, Montgomery; Wm. H. Thornton & Son, Talladega; Allen, Preer & Illges, Columbus. jan27-d&w2m

General Grant's Strategy.

The latest story told about the efforts to pump Grant on his Cabinet appointments concerns a lady, the wife of a prominent Senator. A gay party was assembled at Grant's residence several nights ago, and the ladies composing it formed a group around the great man of the mansion, talking pleasant small talk for some time, when one of the party, a sprightly and handsome lady, thought the opportunity favorable and the General's mental guard sufficiently negligent to venture in where other folks than angels have hitherto feared to tread. "General," started the venturesome fair one, "now won't you say who you intend to put in your Cabinet?" Grant paused for a moment, while a battery of bright and anxious eyes were directed upon him. He saw the critical nature of his position, and that skill alone could secure him a graceful triumph. "Well, Mrs. ——," said he, with a twinkle of humor in his eye, "my wife has asked me that same question already, but I haven't told her yet." Another victory for Grant.

WHICH ACCOUNTS FOR THE MILK IN THE COCOANUT.—Business has got so far ahead of the season at Redwine & Fox's corner, that the Thermometer in "The Live Drug Store" indicated June weather yesterday. Some one suggests that the temperature is always high in "The Live Drug Store" because of the crowds of people to be found there. The fact is everybody in and out of Atlanta has to go there at least once a day—some to buy their superior article of Fire-Test Coal Oil, at manufacturers' prices; some to buy a part of their 1200 boxes of Window Glass, of all sizes; some to buy White Lead, Oils, and Mineral Paints, and everybody to buy Landreth's unrivalled Garden Seeds, of which Redwine & Fox have just received a stock for the million. jan15-dtf

THE CITY HALL.—All the county and city officials are back again at their old quarters in the City Hall. They give a "house-warming" at the Ordinary's office, at 12 M. to-day to all their friends.

MARK W. JOHNSON has found a new bone mill. For particulars mark his advertisement well.

AN ELEGANT RESIDENCE.—Messrs. Wallace & Fowler will rent that elegant residence known as the "Boyd place," at fifty dollars per month. See their card.

FOR TABLE USE.—Langston, Crane & Hammock announce the receipt of one hundred barrels of peach-blow potatoes for table use.

FLOUR.—There is a large stock of flour in this city at present, excellent in quality and at low figures. We can't say which is the best brand, because none have been sent to us for inspection(?)

NOT SO.—The types made us say yesterday evening that "Mr. Burns followed in a stirring, patriotic and pungent effort, in favor of reconstruction." The Major favored RECONSIDERATION, because he was oppesed to the whole subject being brought before the Senate.

A NOVEL ITEM.—A religious newspaper in this city chronicles, under the head of "Atlanta Market Report," the marriage of a couple in East Tennessee. Must we infer from this that it was a regular business transaction? Cupid has been often accused of cupidity, and this would seem to confirm it.

M. O. MARKHAM.—If you want good boots call on Markham.

If you want first-class ladies gaiters, call on Markham.

If you want durable children's shoes, call on Markham.

If you want superior articles in the boot and shoe line, at low figures, Markham's is the place to go.

MAGNIFICENT PLANTATIONS.—Mr. S. P. Greene offers for sale a fine plantation on the Conasauga river, nine miles from Dalton, containing six hundred acres, one hundred and fifty of which is first class bottom land. Also, one hundred and twenty acres, within half a mile of Dalton, on which is a new six room dwelling house. These plantations can be had at reasonable figures. See notice.

THE WHITE FAWN.—This performance is justly entitled the "Enchanted White Fawn." It is unsurpassed in grandeur and beauty of scenic effect, by anything produced in modern times. The dancers give you a full conception of the "poetry of motion," and the singers enchant you with voices which are melody itself. The Transformation Scene captivates and entrances your senses with its charming effect. To appreciate it, one must see it, not only once but repeatedly. Those who have visited it before, will be sure to attend to-night, and we would advise all who have not been, to go to-night and witness this most celebrated of modern productions.

ADDRESS OF HON. DAVID W. LEWIS.—We regret that our citizens do not seemingly appreciate the importance of Agriculture. It was with pain that we noticed such a small turn-out on Monday night to hear the able address of Hon. D. W. Lewis on Agriculture. It was sound, sensible, and practicable, replete with instruction and wisdom. The address was well received by the assemblage. He nominated as Head of the Land and Immigration Bureau, Charles Wallace Howard, a man of clear head, sound heart, enlarged experience, refined culture, and great administrative ability, which nomination was long and loudly applauded by the audience. In response to repeated calls, Col. Thomas C. Howard made a pungent speech, followed by Gen. W. S. Walker, in a brief but masterly effort. The meeting, though small, we are inclined to believe, effected great good. If every member of the Legislature had been present, there would have been not a single dissenting voice to the Land and Immigration bill.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, FEBRUARY 9.

From Washington.

Special Correspondence of the Baltimore Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, February 5, 1869.

The first announcement of the fact that Gen. Banks had at one time been ordered to supersede Gen. Grant and relieve him of his command at Vicksburg, was received by the whole country with astonishment and with many doubts as to its correctness. It seemed incredible that those who were now foremost in their protestations of admiration for the successful warrior had been plotting for his disgrace at the very time when he was about winning his brightest laurels; nor did it seem creditable that a transaction such as is alleged could have taken place and the fact been kept a profound secret so many years. The public were incredulous, and so was Gen. Grant until he carefully examined into the matter and became convinced that there was some foundation for the report. The first movement was to have a thorough search made of the records of the War Department, now completely within the reach of the party interested, but this search proved unavailing, for not a line could be found to corroborate the report. General Grant next sought and obtained an interview with General Banks, and, after calling attention to the report in question, he put the question bluntly as to whether or not there was any truth in what had been stated. While General Banks had kept the transactions a profound secret for six years, he now felt authorized, upon the direct inquiry of Gen. Grant, to disclose the facts, and at once placed his despatches at the disposal of the President elect, who stood dumb-founded at the revelation. There was no mistaking the official records. Three separate despatches had been sent to General Banks, but each so carefully and so characteristically worded that while Banks was directed to relieve Grant and assume the command, he was also required to assume the responsibility in case of disaster. Such was the character of most of the orders issued to the generals of the army at the time. The wording was so arranged that the orders could mean either the one thing or other, and if their execution resulted favorably great credit was claimed by the War Department; if disastrously, the heaviest censure was visited upon the unfortunate General. Thus much is necessary to explain why the first three orders received by General Banks remained not only unexecuted but unnoticed by him.—Then it was that a fourth order was issued to him, in positive terms, directing him to relieve General Grant at once and assume the command of the army. With this positive order General Banks as positively refused to comply, for reasons he then stated in a letter to the Department. For this refusal General Banks was severely censured, but about the same time Grant's strategy proved successful, and Vicksburg was taken. This brilliant achievement on the part of the intended victim of the War Department silenced the clamors at Washington, and General Banks was left the custodian of his own secret. Such are the facts of the case as developed in the interview between the Generals, but where were the departmental records showing the transaction? Lost, destroyed or spirited away. Not a vestige could be found in the records of the Department as kept by Secretary Stanton. Yet General Grant could no longer doubt that that great War Minister whom he had so warmly sustained during the War Department embroglio with President Johnson was the party responsible for this attempt to degrade and disgrace him upon the very eve of his triumph. There was yet one other place where search might be made.—The Carnot of the war did sometimes attempt to shield himself from responsibility by casting it on others, and as the official telegrams to General Banks were all signed by General Halleck, it was possible his books would disclose something. Lucky thought! General Grant immediately returned to the War Department and demanded to see the papers connected with General Halleck's headquarters. These had evidently been overlooked by those who had been engaged in the attempt to destroy and efface from the records of the Department all evidence of the plot against Gen. Grant, and as "murder will out," so did Gen. Halleck's letter-book corroborate, in every particular the facts that Gen. Banks had already placed in the possession of Gen. Grant. The question was now settled by the records of the Government itself that a foul conspiracy against Gen. Grant had been plotted at the National Capital by the very men who now assume to have been the Warwicks who made him, and who are now intent upon being the guardians of his honor and the keepers of his conscience. It is the expressed purpose of Gen. Grant to publish the whole correspondence, and it will be given to the press in a few days. The above statement, however, contains the substance of the whole transaction.

How to Prepare Land for Orchards and Gardens.

Many farmers, especially new beginners, are puzzled as to the best mode of preparing land for this tree or that one, for strawberries, for grapes, and all kinds of orchard and garden plants. If the ground is not underdrained, the best and only good preparation is to plow as deeply as a good team can pull the plow, and follow with a sub soil lifter, run as deeply as another team can pull it. Add to this a good coat of stable manure, if it can be had; if not, use the best fertilizer that can be procured, always remembering that the best of these last are but a moderate substitute for the former. When this is done there is no necessity for digging large holes, or for putting manure in the holes; and if a careful estimate is made of the cost of this kind of preparation, as compared with the expense of digging large holes, it will be found to be as economical and vastly more beneficial. But when time and labor are wanting, as is sometimes the case in planting orchards and vineyards, to prepare land for this manner, it is much better to plow and sub-soil strips of land, about five feet wide, where the rows of trees and vines are to be planted, than to depend upon digging large holes. We are opposed to putting any manures or stimulants in the holes with the roots. Let the fertilizers be incorporated in the soil, where the roots will find them as they grow, but do not stimulate them to a luxuriant growth at the outset, that they may be starved as soon as they reach the sides of the hole.—We have never known this method of preparation to fail when followed with proper cultivation.—Nashville Union.

Dangers of Benzine.

The Scientific American has the following warning paragraph:

"From the facility with which it removes grease spots from fabrics, this substance has come to be regarded almost as a household indispensable. But few persons, however, realize the explosive character of benzine, or the dangers attending the careless handling of the liquid. Being one of the most volatile and inflammable products resulting from the distillation of petroleum, it vaporizes with great rapidity, so that the contents of a four ounce vial, if overturned, would render the air highly explosive. The greatest care should be exercised in handling this substance in proximity to fire, and it is important to remember that the vapor escaping from an uncorked bottle will cause a flame to leap over a space of several feet."

Georgia Land.

One of the best signs that have appeared for our good old commonwealth, is the appreciation of her lands. In nearly every part of the State they have added from one hundred to five hundred per cent. to their market value in the last twelve months. Even in the older counties, Wilkes for instance, they sell from four to eight dollars per acre where a dollar would have been gladly taken a year ago. The fine grain lands of Cherokee, Georgia, which were desolated by war and could have been bought for a song two years ago, are now commanding readily from ten to twenty dollars per acre.—Savannah Republican.

TESTIMONIALS:

We select the following extracts for the benefit of those who have not used Rhodes' "Standard" Manure:

S. Wyatt, Esq., of Allington Plantation, near Waynesboro, Ga., writes as follows to Messrs. B M. Rhodes & Co.:

"Your Phosphate I am highly delighted with; I gave it a fair trial along with several other Standard Manures, and I regard it fully equal if not superior to the best of them. On one field of 100 acres, that I am sure would not, in its natural state, have produced over 400 lbs. of seed cotton to the acre, I have already gathered 700 pounds, and think I shall get fully 200 pounds more.

"Two other fields of 100 acres, better land, I have gathered, at two pickings, over 1,000 pounds to the acre of seed cotton, and think I shall get 200 pounds more.

"I tried it, also, on corn, and found it very good, but not equal in its results to the cotton crop. Several of my neighbors, whose lands adjoin my own, and is pretty much the same character of land, who used no fertilizer at all, have signally failed, making no more than half a crop, if so much as that. Where I applied Rhodes' Phosphate the cotton was heavily fruited, bolls larger, the staple longer, stouter and better than where none was used, so much so that any one, even though he may never have seen the growth before, could readily see it. The only objection to it is, it causes the cotton to open faster than we can possibly gather it—at least, such is my experience."

T. C. Howard, Esq., of Darien, Ga., writes as follows:

"It is proper that I should say the results of the use of your fertilizer have been very marked and indeed surprising. I have made more cotton by its aid on worn out land, that has not been in cultivation in two years past, than I have been able to do on the best swamp or bottom land on my place in Mississippi."

ATHENS, GA., January 23, 1869.

Messrs. P. P. Pease & Co, Atlanta: I applied the two tons of Rhodes' Super-Phosphate, which you furnished me last year, at the rate of 400 pounds to the acre, on thin land, considerably exhausted by continued cultivation, without manure, and have no hesitation in saying that it is an excellent fertilizer for cotton. On the eight acres to which I applied it, I picked upwards of 8,000 pounds of seed cotton—more than double what the land would have produced without the fertilizer. It is also proper to mention, that while the caterpillars stripped all the leaves and young bolls off an adjoining patch, manured with Dickson's Mixture, commencing their ravages in August, they did not attack that manured with Rhodes' Super-Phosphate until the first week in October.

WILLIAM M. BROWNE.

Thousands of certificates and letters could be published, showing the value of Rhodes' "Standard," a quick and permanent fertilizer.

The Soluble Pacific Guano.

TESTIMONIALS:

NEAR ATLANTA, GA., December 10th, 1868.

Messrs. Adair & Brother: I applied Soluble Pacific Guano, procured from you, at the rate of 200 pounds per acre on cotton. I am satisfied its use produced a crop three times greater than the land would produce without it. GEO. S. KEY.

NEAR ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 1, 1868.

Messrs. Adair & Brother: I applied 300 pounds per acre of Soluble Pacific Guano, procured from you. Notwithstanding a ten weeks' drought and the attack of the caterpillar, I gathered 850 pounds per acre. From the same land, without the Guano, I gathered only 200 pounds cotton—say less than one-fourth the quantity. E. MORRIS.

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 12th, 1868.

Messrs. Adair & Brother: I used this year the Soluble Pacific Guano, bought of you, at the rate of 100 pounds per acre on cotton planted three feet apart in the drill. I am confident it is a pure article and believe it increased the yield double, notwithstanding a six weeks' drought and serious attack of caterpillar. J. M. CALHOUN.

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 10th, 1868.

Messrs. Adair & Brother, Gents: I bought of you last spring one ton Soluble Pacific Guano and put it on cotton. It came fully up to my expectations and I cheerfully recommend it to planters as a profitable fertilizer for cotton. M. G. DOBBINS.

COLUMBUS, GA., December, 1868.

John S. Reese & Co., Dear Sirs: Another season confirms my previously expressed convictions, that the Soluble Pacific Guano, as compared with Peruvian, is fully as good—indeed better. I have now tested it sufficiently, using each side by side for two seasons, applying the same weight of each per acre, and in every case the Pacific has given the best results on cotton, corn, potatoes and small grain, and the testimony I have from a great many planters confirms my experience.

WM. H. YOUNG.

Charles A. Peabody, Esq., of Lee county, Alabama, in a letter to William H. Young, says: "The Peruvian Guano I had before used, and know it to be an invaluable fertilizer for cotton. I now find the Soluble Pacific to be equally as good. At the same price I would as soon have it for cotton or corn as the Peruvian; some of my hands insist that it is better." dec15-d3m

The excellent remedies of O. S. Prophitt, M. D., need no recommendation. Their well known power in removing the diseases peculiar to our Southern Climate, having already established for them an enviable reputation in Georgia and the adjoining States. As the majority of persons living in the South are pre-disposed to disease of the Liver, it is granted by all intelligent physicians that most of the pains and aches of our people are due to organic or functional derangement of that important organ. Prophitt's Anti-Bilious Pills and Liver Medicine strike directly at the root of the evil. They cure the Liver which, in nine cases out of ten, is at the bottom of the Coughs, Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Constipation, Menstrual Obstructions, etc., so common among our people. Earache Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and bodily pains of every kind, flee before PROPHITT'S PAIN KILL IT like chaff before the wind.
